Finalists for the 21st Annual SXSW Interactive Innovation Awards Announced in 13 Categories

Awards Honor the Year’s Most Forward-Thinking Companies,
Includes SXSW Interactive Hall of Fame Inductee Eli Pariser

Austin, TX – February 8, 2018 - South by Southwest® (SXSW®) Conference and Festivals (March 9-18, 2018) has announced 64 finalists for its 21st Annual SXSW Interactive Innovation Awards. Presented by KPMG, the Awards recognize the most exciting tech developments in the connected world. Winners will be announced at the Awards ceremony, taking place Tuesday, March 13 at 7 p.m. CDT at the Hilton Austin Downtown (Grand Ballroom, 6th Floor). This event is open to all SXSW Interactive, Film, Music and Platinum badgeholders.

Badgeholders will have the opportunity to interact with finalists and see their work in action at the Interactive Innovation Awards Finalist Showcase, Sunday, March 11 from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. CDT at the Hilton Austin Downtown (Salons C, D, and E, 4th Floor). The Finalist Showcase offers a first look at 2017’s best, most forward-thinking projects in the fields of health and bio-tech, VR and AR, AI and machine learning, privacy and security, smart cities and responsive design, and more. Registered media and official Awards jurists will have exclusive access to the Showcase and finalist demos that morning, from 10-11 a.m. CDT.

“We are proud to share a hands-on experience for every SXSW conference attendee to explore the trendsetting new technology during the Finalist Showcase,” said Hugh Forrest, Chief Programming Officer for SXSW Interactive. “I’m particularly excited for our newest category, AI & Machine Learning, which is at the forefront of technological change and innovation within almost every industry.”

SXSW Interactive Hall of Fame

Additional honors at the Awards ceremony include the SXSW Interactive Hall of Fame inductee, Eli Pariser. The SXSW Interactive Hall of Fame recognizes pioneers within the interactive community whose career achievements have charted the course for the future of the digital industry. Pariser is the President of Upworthy and GOOD Worldwide and has dedicated his career to exploring how technology can elevate important topics in the world—as an author, online organizer, and most recently, co-founder of Upworthy.

SXSW Interactive Innovation Awards Finalists

A panel of judges comprised of industry peers and experts reviewed hundreds of applications to determine this year’s SXSW Interactive Innovation Awards finalists. Each entry was graded on four criteria: creativity, form, function and overall experience. The Finalist Showcase provides an in-person experience for the judges to complete their final round of voting to determine the winners in all 13 categories. SXSW Interactive, Film, Music and Platinum badgeholders vote to determine the winner of the People’s Choice Award.
The SXSW Interactive Innovation Awards will reveal winners in each of the 13 categories plus five additional honors, including: Best of Show, People’s Choice, Breakout Trend of the Event, Speaker of the Event, and Meme of the Year.
